

Dr. Larry Catlett

Dr. Catlett is the founder and former owner of Occupational Medical Consulting. For over 20 years, he has been working to change the health care paradigm from disease and claim management to disease and claim prevention. He and his team have developed a proprietary software used to guide and track wellness interventions at sites locally and around the country. He and his clients have won a number of awards in the wellness field including ACOEM's Corporate Health Achievement Award, inclusion in WELCOA's top ten wellness providers and Platinum award for wellness excellence. He has presented his ideas and experience about health behavior change through numerous speaking venues in multiple states. Having practiced as a family physician, ER Doc and now retiring Occupational Medicine Practitioner, he has seen first-hand the ravages of preventable disease. His passion remains the prevention of lifestyle related disease allowing people to stay HEALTHY and do what they LOVE.
