

Michael Flippin Bio

Michael Flippin is a strategic consultant for teams and organizational culture, the president of Moselem Springs Golf Club, an executive coach and trainer for the Global Accounts team of Sandler Training. For more than a decade, Michael has worked with individuals, local organizations as well as global corporations to implement and improve processes around leadership, business development and customer experience.

Previously, Michael was the president of Web Consulting, an emerging-market consultancy working with a global client base that included nine Fortune-500 and two Global-100 clients.

Today Michael works with a client base focused on upmarket services in hospitality, recreation, professional services. Michael has authored more than 30 professional articles and has delivered more than 150 platform presentations on four continents.

Michael is a graduate of the Boston University School of Management and lives in Holliston, MA with his wife and two sons.

CONTACT:

Cell +1 617 620 2297

Michael@kweligroup.com