Wellness Workdays Distance Dietetic Internship
Good Faith Estimate of Expenses

The WW Dietetic Intern is responsible for all housing, transportation, and personal living costs including meals while on duty and transportation costs to and from all rotations. The intern is also responsible for the cost of any approved conferences she/he chooses to attend outside of the program. Each intern assumes the responsibility to secure housing prior to starting the program and bears the cost of housing throughout the program. It is recommended that interns find housing within one-hour commute of selected rotation sites.

Estimated Expenses and Costs*

Each intern is responsible for the following costs and related items:

- Application fee to internship (non-refundable): $75
- DICAS application fee: $50/$25
- D&D Digital application fee: $55
- Program tuition: $12,000
    - Non-refundable deposit of $1,000 due within 48 hours from time of acceptance to secure spot
    - $5,500 due by May 15th; $5,500 due by June 15th
- Graduate school tuition: Varies ($850-$1,300/credit hour)
- Insurance (auto, medical & professional liability) varies: $1,200 +
- 3-Day Orientation costs (if applicable): Varies
    - Transportation, housing and food.
- Internship supplies (notebooks, paper, lab coat etc): $75
- Program and facility related requirements Varies
    - May include, but not limited to, costs for background checks, tuberculosis test, drug tests, and immunizations (e.g., MMR, Hepatitis B, Tetanus).
- Registration Exam application fee to be paid to CDR: $200

*These fees are meant to be estimates and serve as a guide for interns. They may not represent your actual costs.

Wellness Workdays™
DIETETIC INTERNSHIP

Fee Schedule

Total Program Tuition: $12,000

Fees and tuition are non-refundable

Amount	Due Date
$1,000 (Upon acceptance to program)	Must be postmarked within 48 hours after acceptance
$5,500	May 15th
$5,500	June 15th

Financial Aid

Financial assistance is available to dietetic interns through the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Foundation's scholarship program. For further information, scholarship opportunities, and applications, contact the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. It is important for prospective interns to follow all application directions available from the AND.

Wellness Workdays Dietetic Internship tuition is not eligible for student loans. Interns who are receiving a graduate degree while enrolled in WWDI may qualify for student loans to cover the cost of the graduate programs.

Additional Information

You may qualify for loan deferment or loan forbearance of your undergraduate/graduate degree loans while completing the internship. You may also consider applying for a personal loan to help cover internship costs.